RESEARCH

Senior analysts, who specialize by sector or country in order to maintain their focus and expertise, develop their own proprietary financial models for each company they follow. In order to assess management quality and the business model – foundations of our approach – the TimesSquare investment team's research process emphasizes meetings with management, on-site company visits, and contact with customers, competitors, and suppliers.

INVESTMENT PROFESSIONALS

Our investment team of portfolio managers, analysts and traders is highly experienced and disciplined in the pursuit of relative investment performance. Analysts with specific industry or country expertise utilize proprietary fundamental research for security analysis. In addition, TimesSquare’s trading team includes senior professionals that have significant experience in both U.S. and non-U.S. markets. Our client servicing and marketing professionals are distinguished by their industry experience and extensive knowledge of the investment process, performance attribution and risk management.
